

EX82 Helps Fight Crime, Solve Cases

Video surveillance from the EX82 Integrated Day-Night camera has been used as a valuable investigative tool across North America. Authorities have relied on images from EX82 cameras to help convict many criminals who may have otherwise escaped without charges. Most recently, video surveillance from an EX82 served as key critical evidence in a high-profile murder case in Philadelphia.

“...No good work can be assisted without cameras that are working and in order in every strategic place... they are responsible for many, many, many breaks in cases and solutions in cases. Cooperation of the public, great surveillance cameras, great detective work. That's what made it happen.”

Lynn Abraham
District Attorney of Philadelphia

Problem

Public Areas Lack Effective Surveillance at Night

- Public areas dark at night
- Surveillance video at night is of poor quality
- Images often not usable as evidence in a court of law
- Law enforcement unable to present irrefutable evidence
- Public safety compromised

Solution

EX82 Integrated Day-Night for Effective 24/7 Surveillance

- Powerful active-infrared illumination provides necessary lighting
- Dual-sensor design enables excellent performance day and night
- High-resolution night-time surveillance
- Captured images are admissible as evidence in a court of law

Results

Extreme Technology Helps Deliver Justice

- High quality evidence results in more efficient investigations
- Irrefutable evidence leads to more successful convictions
- Crime reduction in public areas, safer communities
- Restored public trust
